INTRODUCTION

This Guide is designed to inform students and their advisors of specific courses which may transfer directly from individual units of the Montana Community College System to individual units of the Montana University System.

The Board of Regents and the Commissioner of Higher Education of the State of Montana wish to extend gratitude to the transfer staff, faculty, and institutions which worked cooperatively in creating what now represents the State's first rendition of an articulation and course equivalency Guide.

The Guide currently identifies the equivalency of courses offered by the State's public community colleges and accepted for transfer to the State's public senior institutions of higher education. In the future, the Guide shall serve as a companion to annual issues of the State's Guide to the Transfer of Core Curriculum Courses in Montana's Colleges and Universities. Over time, these two Guides will be combined, and will reflect ultimately the equivalency of courses and the applicability of earned credits transferred between the following colleges and universities in Montana:

- Community colleges to community colleges
- Senior institutions to senior institutions
- Technical institutes to community colleges
- Technical institutes to senior institutions
- Private colleges to community colleges
- Private colleges to senior institutions
- Private colleges to technical institutes
- Tribal colleges to community colleges
- Tribal colleges to senior institutions
- Tribal colleges to technical institutes.

Policies and Time Lines Governing the Use of this Guide.

The effective academic term for enrolling in courses to be transferred under the auspices of this Guide is Fall 1992; courses will be transferable immediately.

The courses listed in this Guide are based on the curricula listed in each of the community colleges' most current catalogs. Under normal circumstances, these courses will continue to be offered, as a minimum, over a biennial or three-year cycle, commencing with the Fall of 1992. Due to budget constraints, however, some institutions may find it necessary to either remove courses from their curricula, or to offer them with reduced frequency.

The life of this Guide, subsequent to annual review and revision, is dependent largely upon the annual availability of courses offered by the individual units of the Montana Community College System. Subsequent Guides will be published for immediate reference on an annual basis, for distribution in the spring of each academic year.

Policies Concerning Admission Standards, Academic Progress, and the Transferability of Courses at Individual Institutions.

Each receiving institution's policies concerning admission standards, academic progress, and the transfer of course credit applicable towards the fulfillment of specific requirements differ compulsorily and frequently across the Montana University System. Albeit the purpose of this Guide is to identify those courses which are normally applicable towards, or equivalent to specific institutional or departmental requirements, students are well advised to first consult with the intended receiving institution to determine the continued applicability of any college-level courses to the general education/core or graduation requirements, as well as to their intended area of major or minor study.

Students are further advised that normally, no courses may transfer for credit at the receiving institution if that institution determines that specific courses are remedial or are otherwise non-transferable; whenever possible, those courses are designated in this Guide as either developmental or vocational-technical, and are accompanied by footnoted information. Consequently, all transfer students are well-advised to consult the catalogs of those institutions to which they intend to transfer.

Credit associated with specific courses, and accepted for transfer purposes, is normally noted under one of three categories: (1) credit accepted towards the minimum number of credits required by the receiving institution for graduation as a baccalaureate, (2) credit accepted towards fulfillment of the courses and credits prescribed by the receiving institution's general education or core curriculum, or (3) credit accepted towards fulfillment of the courses and credits prescribed by a specific major or minor program offered by the receiving institution.

Accordingly, acceptance of credit should not be confused with its direct application towards fulfillment of the receiving institution's graduation/degree, general education/core, or major/minor requirements. Transfer credit may or may not apply towards the graduation requirements of a given college or university, regardless of the number of credits transferred. Credit, other than that intended wholly to meet the general education/core requirements of the receiving institution, may be applied on the basis of the appropriateness of credit towards a particular institution's specific degree requirements, as determined by the receiving institution. For example, students intending to transfer credits to the Montana College of Mineral Science and Technology (TECH) should be aware that all engineering programs require a two course sequence in humanities, as well as in the social sciences. Transfers to Montana State University (MSU) must earn their general education/core curriculum requirements outside their major rubric; students changing majors or related curricula should be aware that courses in a new major/curriculum may no longer fulfill general education/core curriculum requirements at MSU.

Acceptable Grades.

Grades of "C" or better are normally necessary to gain credit transferable to four-year colleges and universities in the State of Montana. Some institutions accept "Ds". Students should check with the institution to which they plan to transfer.

Students intending to transfer credits to Miles Community College should note that a maximum of seven credits of "D" grade will be applicable towards degree or certificate requirements. At Northern Montana College (NMC), transfer credit will be given for courses in which satisfactory grades were received; a satisfactory grade for transfer purposes is defined as A, B, C, S, or P; students transferring a "P" grade should consult the NMC catalog as regards the applicability of credit.

Questions Concerning The Transferability of Specific Courses.

As explained earlier, acceptance of credit for the purpose of transfer does not automatically define its applicability towards specific graduation requirements, general education/core requirements, nor major/minor requirements. Therefore, questions concerning the transferability of specific courses listed in this Guide or elsewhere should be referred directly to the Office of Admissions at the receiving institution; on occasion, students may be referred to one of the receiving institution's academic departments to determine the course equivalency of specific courses for the purpose of transferring credit towards a specific major, minor, or other program of study.

Eastern Montana College's Semester Equivalent for Transfer of Credit Earned at Miles Community College

1. General Elective: at EMC, credit is transferable towards graduation, or the receiving major department determines how the course credit shall be counted. This definition, at EMC, differs from the definition for Electives, which identifies credit which is transferable solely towards graduation, without regard to a specific major. (See Footnote 3 for further clarification of Departmental Electives.)
2. Education majors seeking an equivalent of EMC's MUS/ART 101 may take MCC's AC 101 and MU 119 to fulfill this requirement. If both are taken, the courses will also fulfill General Education category IVa for these majors.
3. Departmental Electives. This credit is transferable and fulfills partial requirements for the major. For BU 213 and BU 214, credit is available toward the business major upon successful completion of the CLEP.
4. Fulfills the General Education category Ie for most majors. Check with advisor for specific requirements in a given major. Six semester credits of Freshman Composition fulfills categories Ia and Ie of the General Education, with the exception of Business majors, who must take ENGL 301 at EMC to fulfill Ie.
5. See host and/or major department's chair, or designated advisor, to determine the equivalency of transferable credit.
6. Fulfills requirement for Educational Psychology.
7. See Associate Dean of Education to determine the equivalency of transferable credit.
8. Does not satisfy EMC's language requirement.
9. Most physical education credits will transfer to EMC as electives.
10. Credit for MATH 105 counts toward graduation but does not fulfill the General Education Requirements.
11. Fulfills General Education category for some Education majors.
12. Credit towards Group 2 of the major.
